

The appraisalment of the new school cafeteria

[.....] Personally I must say that the entry is unbelievably nice because you can touch the old Walls of the ruin too.

The interior is also fantastic, simply because there are round and also angular tables and chairs with different colours. But the best of all things is the ceiling with curves and lamps of different size. Furthermore I like the timber flooring because it seems so warm in contrast to the metal and the concrete [.....]